

Binogi Support

Knowledgebase > Account > Activating your Account

Activating your Account

- 2021-03-10 - Comments (0) - Account

After registering for Binogi.ca, you have to activate your account.

When you register, a confirmation link will be sent to your email inbox.

To activate your account, find the email that was sent to you by Binogi Support.

Open the email and click "Confirm". You can also click the link or copy and paste the link into your browser. Your email address has now been successfully confirmed and you can use your Binogi account.

If you do not remember the e-mail address used or you want to change the e-mail address, you are welcome to do so.

To do this, click on the gear wheel in the upper right corner and select Change email address.

